AUTO SMASH

TWO MACHINES COME TOGETHER ON BROADWAY AT ISABEL STREET

Saturday afternoon at a little past four, as Mrs. I. J. Phillips was returning to her home at 514 East Harvard in her big Abbott-Detroit machine, William Raymond in his Ford collided with her car at the Isabel street crossing of Broadway. She was driving south and he came west on Broadway. When he saw a collision was inevitable he swerved to the left and struck the left fender and front bumper of her machine, bending the former down and loosening the latter from its frame, also bending the front wheels. The Ford, according to witnesses of the accident, turned entirely over, landed on its wheels and then ran over against the north curb, in front of the Sanitarium. The windshield and frame were smashed to bits and young Raymond was thrown violently to the pavement. A six-inch gash was cut by flying glass, just below his left ear. He was taken at once into the Sanitarium and the wound sewed up. He lost a great deal of blood, but his injuries were not fatal. He is getting along very nicely now and will soon be out again.

He and his mother have a grocery store at 220 North Verdugo Road and he delivers goods in the Ford. He recently returned from overseas service in France, where he participated in three big battles—St. Mihiel, Argonne Forest and the Meuse. He came through all these without a scratch only to be bowled over in an auto accident in peaceful Glendale. He is a nephew of Gordon L. Smith, the grocer, on South Brand.

DEATH OF AGED LADY

Mrs. A. E. Nevins died Sunday, September 14th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Ackley, 236 North Kenwood, in her 91st year. She leaves five other daughters, namely, Mrs. Viola N. Poole of Los Angeles, Mrs. Sara Crofts of Placer county, Mrs. Alameda Taylor and Mrs. Morilla Parish of Nashua, Iowa, and Mrs. Adella Sanford of Grand Forks, N. D.; numerous grandchildren, great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers, the Pulliam Company in charge.

RINGING WORDS

REV. SNUDDEN FACES FORMER PARISHIONERS AND BRINGS MESSAGE FROM OVERSEAS

Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, who has returned from overseas duty with the Y. M. C. A., having done work in Belgium, France, England, Italy and Germany, occupied the pulpit of the First M. E. Church, where he was formerly pastor, Sunday morning, September 14th.

After a series of musical numbers from the church choir under the leadership of Miss Isgrig, following the devotional opening, Rev. Hoskyn made a short address of welcome in behalf of Rev. B. D. Snudden as an introduction to the sermon that followed.

Rev. Snudden seems to be possessed with that same reluctance found in nearly all returned overseas men in talking about himself. Those who came expecting to hear personal experiences were disappointed. He chose for his text the 4th verse of the 6th Psalm: "Thou hast given a banner to them that hear thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth."

He said the Jewish flag was always an emblem of truth wherever it went, but that no flag had ever carried the message of truth with any greater success than did the Stars and Stripes borne aloft by the khaki-clad men to war-stricken Europe.

He left New York Harbor en route to France one Sunday morning and found it hard to realize why the trains should run and every where there should be hustle and bustle and boats should start their journeys on the Sabbath. He had the wrong perspective. Later he remembered the ox was to be taken from the ditch on the Sabbath, so he knew it was necessary to take a weak, frail nation that had fallen into the hands of thieves to safety on the Sabbath day.

His message was divided into four parts. The first was the relation between the national standard and character. On arriving in France, Rev. Snudden said he went (Continued on Page 4)

ALONG THE COAST

JASON KILLGORE WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF TRIP FROM 'FRISCO TO PANAMA

Jason Killgore of 507 Vine street, chief wireless operator on the "City of Para," which makes a round trip every two months between San Francisco and the Canal Zone, stopping at many intermediate points, gives interesting details of his work and what he saw, in a recent letter to his father, which we append below; it was written from Balboa, the western terminus of the Canal:

"I am having a very pleasant trip. The weather has been cool for the tropics. It rains every afternoon here in Panama. I have been here two weeks. We lay at anchor in Balboa for about five days in quarantine because the ship came from a Central American port where there was supposed to have been contagion. There was none on the ship. Farmer was at San Pedro to see me. He seemed enthusiastic about my work and said he was going to apply for a job with Federal. While in France he taught wireless. He made the rank of chief electrician in the Signal Corps.

"The ship stopped in at San Blas, Mexico, this trip. Like most of our other stops it isn't much more than an anchorage. The ship was in Amapala, Honduras, about four days loading hides. I hear that a surplus of hides has been collecting in Central America for a year or two. In Nicaragua a large amount of dye wood was taken on. We are now loaded with steel rails for La Union, Salvador. I expect we will be there a week unloading them. The work was very slow in loading them, it being a little difficult to get them through a hatch. It is planned to skip a number of ports going up this time. I expect to arrive in San Francisco about September 25th. There are 122 people waiting for a passage to San Francisco at one port in Salvador. About 110 is the greatest number we have accommodations for.

"I saw part of the fleet while in San Jose de Guatemala. It was quite a ways off shore. Five ships of the fleet were in Amapala while I was there. The officers of the U. S. S. Machias invited a crowd off our ship over to see their movies. The show was very good. The U. S. S. Chicago talked to me over a wireless phone. The speech was very clear. The wireless work has gone along very well this trip. The little trouble I was having with my receiver was fixed after leaving San Pedro. I just had a white uniform made. It cost ten dollars. I received your letter and a card from Mack, my former partner. He was in Buffalo on his way to Boston and Ayers Cliff, Canada."

HOLLOW TILE CONSTRUCTION

Hollow tile construction for both business buildings and residences is gaining greatly in favor in Glendale in recent years. For residences the walls are cemented over. For business buildings this is generally done also, except in division walls. An instance of the latter style is seen in the Bartlett & French new building on Brand at Harvard, while mixed brick and tile construction, not cemented over, can be seen one block south of there. A number of residences have been or are being constructed in Glendale of hollow tile with cement finishing, one in particular a very costly one. So great has been the recent development in this line that there is to be an architectural competition for a one-story hollow-tile house to cost not more than $5000, under the auspices of the American Institute of Architects in Los Angeles. The competition will close December 1st. Prizes of $300, $150, $100 and $50 are offered. It may be that some of our Glendale architects will enter the contest.

MUCH PIPE REQUIRED IN FLOOD CONTROL WORK

Seeing a truck and trailer load of 2-inch 12-foot lengths of pipe for the flood control walls of Verdugo Wash set a mathematician to figuring the number required for the work and the total length of them if laid end to end. The distance to be enclosed by the two double rows of pipe, from Verdugo canyon bridge to a point between Louise and Brand boulevard, is slightly over a mile. Figuring it at exactly a mile and remembering that the lengths are to be set six feet apart it would require 880 for a single row and 3420 for the four rows. Laid end to end these would stretch 41040 feet or nearly 8 miles.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Continued warm.

"TREATY MADE IN STEALTH"

THE UNITED STATES GETS ONLY BURDENS AS SHARE OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS, SAYS JOHNSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DES MOINES, Ia., September 15.—Senator Johnson speaking here today declared that the United States gets only burdens as her share of the League of Nations and that every other nation will profit by the treaty.

He said, "President Wilson made the treaty in stealth and is trying to get it ratified before the people learn what it contains."

WILSON IN PORTLAND

RESERVING HIS ENERGY FOR INVASION OF CALIFORNIA, SENATOR JOHNSON'S HOME STATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PORTLAND, Oregon, September 15.—President Wilson arrived in Portland at nine o'clock this morning after a slow, restful trip from Seattle. Before entering Portland the train stopped four hours at a small town twenty miles from the city to permit the party to rest.

Portland gave the president a noisy reception. Thousands cheered wildly as he passed through the streets bowing and waving his hat. Governor Olcott of Oregon and Mayor Baker of Portland escorted the president.

Wilson will devote the day to auto riding, resting and attending a private luncheon given by C. S. Jackson, a newspaper publisher. His only scheduled speech is for tonight.

The president is resting and reserving his energy preparatory to invading California, the home of Senator Johnson.

It is expected that he will make a brief study of the Thomas Mooney case while he is in California.

QUAKES AT EUREKA

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS ACCOMPANIED BY ROARS LIKE THUNDER SHAKE CALIFORNIA CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EUREKA, Cal., September 15.—The fifth earthquake shock within a week shook Eureka at 7 o'clock this morning. It was the most severe of the series and demolished several chimneys. The damage was not serious. The shock was accompanied by a heavy roar like thunder. Another sharp shock occurred at 9 o'clock this morning.

NEW MINORITY REPORT

SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE MEMBERS SUBMIT NEW VIEW ON PEACE TREATY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 15.—Senator McOmber, Republican member of the Foreign Relations committee submitted to the Senate today what he called a minority view of the committee on the peace treaty.

The report declared that the majority report was discourteous and overbearing and expressed a spirit of jingoism which should not appear in American statesmanship.

He said, "The report ignored the fundamental fact that there is written in the treaty the great underlying principle that the same code of morals that governs people in their relations with each other should be applied to international relations."

He denounced the reservations which the majority report provided and urged the adoption of six other reservations.

ACCIDENT AT SMELZER

J. T. STOCKTON KILLED WHEN HIGH POWER WIRE FALLS ACROSS TELEPHONE WIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SANTA ANA, September 15.—One man was killed and twelve houses were set afire last night when a 10,000 volt power wire fell across a telephone wire at Smelzer near here.

J. T. Stockton was the man killed. The property damage was not great.

INTERRED GERMANS ESCAPE

STANDARD OIL FIRE CONTROLLED

HOME FROM HUNLAND HARNESSING THE WASH

DR. A. W. TEEL RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS AFTER MORE THAN YEAR'S ABSENCE

The smiling face of Dr. Ambrose W. Teel is again seen on the streets, he having arrived at home after nearly a year's strenuous service overseas. He left home on August 11th and New York City on Oct. 15, bound for France, where he gave his best services to the boys behind the guns. After the armistice was signed he was appointed on the Inter-Allied Commission of Repatriation of Russian Prisoners of War, and was sent to Berlin. He and his companions were in serious danger many times from the sullen Germans in street riots, but they went unconcerned about their business and finally won the respect and confidence of the very men who had tried to kill them. Dr. Teel's work was to establish hospitals for the care of the eyes of Russian prisoners in Germany. He left Berlin for home on July 18, sailed from Brest on the "Northern Pacific" Aug. 6th, and landed in New York Aug. 12th. He was discharged at Camp Dix and spent two weeks on the way home, visiting relatives and old friends in and near Galesburg, Ill., Keokuk, Iowa, and Kahoka, Mo.

DEATH OF AGED RESIDENT

Chas. Eichhorn, aged 72 years, died Sunday night at 8:30, in a Los Angeles hospital from the effects of an operation. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. L. C. Russell of Glendale, Mrs. J. E. Corey of San Francisco, and Mrs. D. C. Sullivan of Chicago. Mrs. Corey arrived today to attend the funeral which is to be held tomorrow, 2:30 p. m., in the Jewel City Undertaking Co. parlors, Rev. R. W. Mottern officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Deceased had been a resident of Glendale for 16 years.

INSTRUCTIVE WORDS

BOTH SUNDAY SERMONS AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH WORTH WHILE

The morning sermon subject at Central Christian Church Sunday was "Many Are Called but Few Are Chosen," the text being the same words from the parable of the marriage feast. The speaker referred to a sermon he heard on this text in his early youth which led to much questioning in his mind for several years as to whether or not those to be saved were chosen arbitrarily, with no volition on their part, but study convinced him that those called must choose themselves the better way if they would be saved. The gospel is the power of God into salvation for all who choose to accept it and it is the business of the church to present this gospel in its truth and purity. One will notice from the parable that many of those called refused to attend the marriage feast, so were utterly cast out by the Lord. And there was one present who accepted the call, but had not on the wedding garment, that is his life did not conform to the principles of the gospel he claimed to accept so he, too, was cast out.

At the close of the service an entire family of five took membership with the church. This was the second whole family of the same number of people, father, mother and three children to affiliate with the local church within the past month.

The evening sermon was on the theme, "The Other Side," a lesson from the parable of the "Good Samaritan." Too many self-righteous church members today, like the priest and the Levite of old, who in their day stood for orthodox membership, pass by on the other side when they come across scenes of distress or want. They prefer the longer, easier way and pass on in their self-righteous course, pluming themselves on the correctness of their lives. Yet they lack the spirit of helpfulness which is the mark of the true Christian. The Good Samaritan not only came over to "this side" to see what was the matter with the groaning stranger, but he bound up his wounds, set him on his own beast, took him to the inn and paid for his cure. Not only that, but he paid in advance and promised to pay all extra charges, if any, when next he came that way. And yet the Samaritan was of a despised race, whom the Jews considered as dogs. The true Samaritans of this day are those who bind up the wounds of the suffering and soothe the sorrows of the weak, thus showing themselves true neighbors.

FLOOD CONTROL WORK TO MAKE WASH SAFE FOR GLENDALE NOW IN FULL SWING

G. E. Daley, construction engineer in charge of the flood control work in Verdugo Wash, says he has two pile drivers at work now driving the big wooden piles on either side of the channel between Louise and Brand. The excavation for the new channel to run under roadways and tracks 150 feet south of the present channel was begun last week and is being pushed rapidly. The two reinforced concrete bridges to span this and carry the roadways over will be 90 feet in length. Bids for their construction are now before the Board of Supervisors and the contracts will be let about October 1st. One will be constructed at a time so travel will not be interrupted. With the P. E. bridge, however, a different course will be pursued. Piles will be driven deep in the ground and the tracks be supported by them while the excavation and bridge work are being done. There will be busy times along the Wash for the next few months.

STOLE PHONOGRAPH AND RECORDS

The mysterious burglars afflicting Glendale and vicinity are becoming musically inclined. Sunday night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, while J. W. M. Burton and family were absent from their home in Montrose, a Ford car drove up from the north and stopped, the occupants jumped out and went into the house, gathered up the phonograph and records, loaded them in the machine and hurried away.

MONEY IN GREEN CORN

Mention was made recently of the 1.1-3-acre cornfield of Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable, just across the street north of their residence at 505 West Lomita avenue. About three-fourths of an acre of the field has been cleared of roasting ears thus far, bringing in $105, and the family have had all they wanted, while considerable has been given to friends. The remainder of the field is later and is yielding now many dozens of ears daily.

NORTHERN VISITOR ILL

Mit Finch, who came to Glendale recently to visit his two brothers, Pliny D. and Newton, the latter himself a visitor from Rock Valley, Iowa, is quite sick from the after effects of influenza, of which he had a severe attack last winter. His daughter, Mrs. Nellie Stone, of Hayward, Iowa, came last week to help nurse her father.

J. H. BRALY AT BIG BEAR

J. H. Braly is at Big Bear Lake for a few weeks' outing with two of his sons and their families. They have a big house of their own and a motor boat, so are having a grand time. Mrs. Braly says she has received two letters and a telegram from her husband urging her to join them, but she says she is in the midst of fruit canning and housecleaning and feels she must get all that out of the way before October 1st.

COMMUNITY SING CLEAR OF DEBT

The gross receipts of the Community Sing at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson last Friday night were nearly $100 and the expenses a little over $20. The amount cleared was more than pay the back indebtedness, which was the object of the two benefits held this summer. This happy result was brought about by the self-sacrifice and willing service of a dozen or more Glendale ladies and a few of the men.

WIN FINE GAME

The Elks' Baseball team is playing pennant-winning ball at last, as is evidenced by Sunday's game, when they won from Santa Monica by the score of 3 to 2. Crandall and Hastings broke the battery and they not only distinguished themselves by brilliant heaving and backstop work but the latter clinched the victory with a home run.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS

Both Grammar Schools and High School opened this morning with a record attendance, apparently, though full figures will not be available for a day or two. All the teachers are at their posts and regular class work will begin tomorrow.

WORDS ONE SELDOM HEARS

Amphiscians are the only people who inhabit the tropics, whose shadows in one part of the year are cast to the north and in the other to the south, according as the sun is north or south of their zenith.

The Antiscians are the inhabitants of the earth living on different sides of the equator, whose shadows at noon are cast in contrary directions. Those living north of the equator are antiscians to those living south of that line, and vice versa. The shadows on one side are cast toward the north and upon the other toward the south.

The Ascians are the people who live in a land where, at a certain time of each year, they have no shadows at noon. All the inhabitants of the torrid zone are Ascians, they having a vertical sun twice a year.

The Periscians are the inhabitants of the polar circle, whose shadows during some portions of the summer must in the course of the day move entirely around and fall toward every point of the compass.

RED CROSS NURSES CANNOT WORK IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 13.—That the public schools of California cannot be used by private organizations to teach or practice upon the children is the ruling of Superintendent of Public Instruction Will C. Wood in an opinion given the Public School Protective League.

The decision was made in connection with the proposal of the board of school trustees of Coronado to give the Red Cross space in the public schools there, where the Red Cross Community nurse might carry on the physical examination and supervision of school children, including their medical treatment.

"Parents send their children to school to be educated," says Mr. Wood, and, he adds, "if the school authorities permit any individual to give medical treatment to the children while they are in school, the trustees are responsible for any consequences. I am of the opinion that no one except an employee of the school, duly qualified, can conduct the physical examination of the school children and that all such work must be done by authority of and under the direction of the Board of Trustees; that no other organization has any right whatever to operate in the public schools."

"It would be dangerous for any public official to hold otherwise. If uncertified persons operating under one private organization can treat pupils of the public schools any organization can claim the same right. Within a short time we would have chiropractors, drugless healers, faith healers, and many other professions and organizations using the public schools in this manner. To sum up, I wish to emphasize the following things:

"First, health inspection can be carried on only by authority of and under the direction of the Board of Trustees or Board of Education;

"Second, actual inspection can be done only by people who are certified according to law;

"Third, the law does not give the school board power to force parents to have pupils treated; that is a matter for the parents to determine;

"Fourth, the school board is responsible for any malpractice or mistreatment on the part of its employees doing health work."

The Public School Protective League is a state-wide organization, with offices at Los Angeles and San Francisco. Its purpose is to co-operate with educational authorities in preventing medical or ecclesiastical exploitation of the public school children of California.

$3000 A YEAR NOT ENOUGH

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Three thousand dollars a year is a good salary in many vocations—but it is inadequate for a city official in San Francisco, according to George E. Gallagher, whose resignation as president of the Board of Education is due to the high cost of living.

"It's environment," declared Gallagher, insisting the "cost of maintaining appearances befitting the position" makes the holding of an executive public office a losing job at any salary unless the holder has private means.

"To the $100 a month man, $3000 a year looks like a fortune," said Gallagher, "but he doesn't consider the manner in which such a man must live."

"He must live in a good neighborhood. He must live well."

"He must take the best places at the theater, or be called 'cheap.'"

"He must travel in style, living at expensive hotels if he goes away from the city."

"He has to head lists of charities and give respectable amounts."

"He must subscribe liberally to all public subscriptions."

"He is invited out and has to go, representing his place in city affairs."

"He must dress according to the public's estimate of his position. He must drive his own car."

"He must hold up his 'end' wherever he is—at all costs."

"And $3000 a year doesn't go far now-a-days. There is nothing left in the bank account at the end of the year. I say positively city officials and employees are not paid commensurately with the way they have to live. You've got to figure that $150 a month 15 years ago was better than $500 a month is today."

EAST BROADWAY PAVING

Some people are heard to wonder if that rough, uneven stretch of concrete is what we are to accept as the smooth, durable paving of East Broadway. Don't worry, that is only the base, which is supposed to harden for about a year, then will receive the smooth surfacing.

KEWPIE TEA PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant were host and hostess Saturday afternoon at a very unique social affair at which a few of their neighbors were guests. Mr. Myton of 510 North Maryland had promised the little girls of the block that he would give prizes to those who did the best work in dressing their Kewpie dolls. Dr.
Bryant to be the judge. A rule of the contest was that they were to have no help or suggestion. Long before the day the contest was to be decided Dr. Bryant's friends began to send him fashion plates and books and instructions in dressmaking fearing that he was incapable of the task imposed upon him, for as his wife was heard to remark, "he doesn't know a tuck from a ruffle."
The fact that the contestants were all satisfied with his decision would make it seem that all this concern was unnecessary.

At last the time came when the Kewpies, in festive array, were arranged on the dining table and their young mothers were breathless until the result was announced. Long and close inspection on the part of the judge was necessary before he announced that the first prize should go to Roberta Cullen and her Kewpie, which she had clothed in a black evening gown. Pumpy Myton was winner of the second prize. Her doll was dressed as a bridesmaid in yellow silk. The third prize was divided between Lorraine McDaniel and Girle Myton, whose creations were a pink evening gown and a bride's dress.

Mrs. Bryant served afternoon tea with sandwiches, cake and candy.
She was assisted by her niece, Miss Esther Ferguson, in entertaining her guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. Cullen and daughter Roberta, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myton and daughters, Girle and Pumpy, Mrs. Wright and grand-daughter, Lorraine McDaniel, and the Bryant family.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Myton have sold their home, the affair was in the nature of a farewell for them.

Bonds by Robert E. Smith, director of the War Loan Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.
"Coupons uncashed are idle money.
It is no trouble to cash your coupons.
Just clip the September 15th coupon off and present it at any bank and you will get your money. It is no more trouble than getting change for a bill."

If all bondholders in America cash their coupons today there will be in circulation tomorrow nearly $85,- 000,000 more money than was in circulation yesterday. That is approximately the total amount of interest to be paid out on the Third Loan as a whole today.

"Here is a chance for the people to hit high prices a hard blow," said Director Smith. "Every man, woman and child who owns a Third Loan Bond should cash the coupon and immediately buy Thrift or War Savings Stamps or Treasury Savings Certificates which bear more interest than the bonds. Investment of the Third Loan Bond interest at the bank window immediately upon cashing the coupons will keep that $85,000,000 out of circulation and thus help keep prices down."

"I cannot urge too strongly the wisdom of letting the Government keep this interest money and, not only that, but continued buying of War Savings Stamps out of every pay envelope. If everyone in the United States would set aside something each week for War Savings Stamps earning them four per cent.
interest compounded every three months, it would be a very short time until there would be a noticeable drop in prices."

NOTICE TO Liberty Bond Holders

The Bank of Glendale will accept your Liberty Bonds for safe keeping, receipting for the same in Savings Pass Book, will clip your coupons as they become due, crediting the same in Savings Pass Book where it will bear interest.

The 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th issues of Liberty Bonds must soon be exchanged for bonds with the additional coupons. The Bank will attend to this for you. For further particulars call Mr. Vesper.

into a store and asked the lady tending shop about the war. Oh, yes, she was glad it was nearly over, glad the American flag had brought such relief, but there could be no rejoicing there for every man of their household had been killed. He was going down a street in Liverpool and saw approaching a woman with a small boy. The boy had a small American flag and as he came near Rev. Snudden gave a military salute. The woman expressed her thanks for the salute and said the boy could not understand why every American did not salute the flag as they passed the boy. The little fellow said: "Why, they do not salute their own flag." He thought a flag that represented so much to them, though not their own, ought to be high in the esteem of the American people.

His second point was, "Truth brings hope." Several of the smaller villages of France never heard of the Stars and Stripes until the khaki-clad men carried the flag through their streets bringing hope and cheer as they went.

He saw in Germany several real small boys carrying their books to school in knapsacks on their backs in soldier fashion and at recess the schoolmaster would march the tots through the streets in regular army style. The Stars and Stripes will have to carry hope in the message of truth to them if these boys in the coming years are to be saved from the ravages of another war. And we in America must be as heroic in doing our bit in this time of peace as our boys were in doing theirs during the months of war.

The third point, "Truth always calls for great dedication." Rev. Snudden visited Argonne and even now when the miles of country covered during that battle are a wasted desert can be found quite a company of American boys under the American flag willing to go through mud and filth, sleeping in houses without roofs perfectly contented if only a dry spot can be found for their blankets.

Later he visited Verdun and there saw a devastated area of many miles and right in the midst can be seen the Stars and Stripes floating in the breeze surrounded by 3000 white crosses indicating the sacrifice made by that many of our boys who gave their lives stopping the awful avalanche of hate belched forth in rivers of molten metal and deadly gases. Just as men gave their lives to show that the mosquitoes of Panama and Cuba carried yellow fever, and by the death of one man yellow fever is feared no more. So by the sacrifice of those who loved our Stars and Stripes the world has been taught again that man must be free to live.

Fourth point, "Truth has always given a great message of victory." Rev. Snudden was in Paris the day of President Wilson's first visit, and hours before the time appointed he was out determined to secure a point of vantage. This proved to be on top a Boche gun where later he looked down on the dignitaries of France and America. Some two or three hours before the President's arrival people began to flow into the streets in veritable rivers until it seemed a flood of humanity was there. Then finally the signal was given denoting the approach of the procession. No pomp of kingly or queenly splendor could be seen for all was simple and plain—a squad of mounted police first, then the long procession of carriages followed by another squad of police, no outward display being needed to show the greatness of the occasion. A truly great message of victory was sounded forth that day. Later he was at a point where two rivers meet in Germany where is builded a statue on a large foundation. Steps led up through this base to its top, where was erected a statue of William I. of Germany and alongside was one of the Goddess of Humanity so faced that both overlooked the rivers and the valley between. Off to the left, some thirty feet in height, was one of those fierce, ugly-looking forts of Germany which had passed from first one country to another by conquest. As Rev. Snudden stood looking at the fort he saw floating from its flagpole the Stars and Stripes.

Here on one side was a statue representing a country which in one generation had through nurtured hate fallen from a place of honor to dishonor, while opposite stood the national emblem of a people who without thought of gain had given hope not only to the stricken nations of Europe, but which had taught the German boys and girls of that valley that the nation behind that flag, whose soldiers had cuddled these children to sleep and played ball and games during waking hours could not possibly ravish their women, nor murder and mutilate their children.

So the American people in this hour of crisis must arise and make the Stars and Stripes the emblem of hope and victory in this new era of peace in the war-devastated countries of Europe the same as it has been made an emblem of hope and cheer during the months of war, for God has given a banner to us that fear Him that it may be displayed because of the truth.

EXCLUSIVE ARTISTS ON COLUMBIA RECORDS

The best songs of the many comic opera and vaudeville stars who sing exclusively for Columbia are being featured by the Columbia Graphophone Company this month. Al Jolson is represented by three selections in this collection of songs by artists who sing for thousands at the theatres and for hundreds of thousands on Columbia Records.

Jolson himself pronounces "I'll Say She Does" from "Sinbad" his greatest hit. Another song that Jolson interpolated in the famous show, thereby making it more famous, was "On the Road to Calais." No one who has heard it is likely to forget the third Jolson song featured this month, "Wedding Bells (Will You Ever Ring for Me?)"

Nora Bayes has had a good time (Nora always has a good time) singing her latest hits for Columbia Records, and Bert Williams makes his Columbia Records just as solemnly and just as amusingly as he sings his songs on the stage. Van and Schenck have contributed three songs to this collection of the latest popular successes, which can be heard, as sung by these famous artists, only on Columbia Records.

REDONDO'S OFFICIAL SNIFFER

A denizen of Redondo Beach bought some meat at a market there the other day, and before he got it home it developed so much strength that he had to hold his nose. He tried to induce the meat vender to take back the flesh and return his coin, but the aforesaid vender demurred, on the strength of the strength of the meat, and the case was finally appealed to the city council, with the meat introduced as evidence. The city dads were so impressed by the strength of the citizen's argument that they appointed a city sniffer to inspect all meat markets and grocery stores. So from now on there's a slim chance to slip over-ripe meat across the counter, unless the official sniffer catches a bad cold.

A cannery in Los Angeles, which was partially destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon, was looted after the firemen left by a gang of more than 100 negroes and Mexicans. Over 100 sacks of sugar, many boxes of pears and a lot of canned goods awaiting shipment were stolen before the arrival of police scared the thieves away.
